

NEW LONDON.

Special to the Reflector.

Mrs. Johns, an aged lady, died on Friday last at the residence of her son on Clarksfield street. The funeral wNorwalk Reflector family residence 3/22/1900 con- ducted bypg 3 col 6 nd the interment Ohio.

The funeral of A. W. Dunks oc- curred from his late home on Rochester street Monday at one o'clock; interment in our cemetery. Mr. Dunks was an old resident and well known in town. He was a great lover of flowers, and for several years had a greenhouse here. His wife and one son sur- vive him and sincerely mourn his death.

Mr. Yoder, of our telephone

wl
w
to
pe
go
on
pu
gr
at
th